The International Studio & Curatorial Program presents Every Morning, Every Evening, a solo show of work by Ground Floor artist Kyoung Eun Kang. The exhibition focuses on one body of the artist's work exploring the intimate bonds between her and her mother across many miles and one generation. Installed in ISCP's project space, Every Morning, Every Evening includes a video installation and photographs encompassing various ways the artist has interacted with her mother over the past several years.

The focal point of the installation is Happy Birthday, a work made from a single-channel video embedded in the surface of a low Korean dining table, a gyoja-sang. The video shows clips shot over the last decade of the artist's mother performing birthday rituals for various family members.

Evolving her own sustained collaborative practice, Kyoung eun Kang draws our attention to very specific experiences that are unique and personal to her alone, but speak volumes about the life-affirming behaviors of nurturing and maternity.

This project was selected by 2022 curator-in-residence Kjersti Solbakken. She is curator of the Lofoten International Art Festival (LIAF) in Norway in 2024.

Kyoung eun Kang is a New York-based artist born in South Korea. She received a BFA and MFA in painting from Hong-ik University in Seoul, South Korea and an MFA from Parsons, The New School for Design, New York, NY. Kang works in a wide range of media, including live performance, video, painting, photography, installation, text, and sound pieces. Her work explores geographical and cultural identities, as well as universal human themes such as affection and attachment to raise questions about how we foster and maintain relationships in an ever-changing world.

Her work has been exhibited both internationally and across the US in numerous galleries and museums, including A.I.R Gallery, Collar Works, NURTUREart, BRIC Project Room, Soho 20 Project Room, and Here Arts Center, all NY; The Korean Cultural Center, Washington, DC; Lawrence Wilson Art Gallery, Australia; Museum of Imperial City, China, and the National Museum of Modern Art, Korea. She is a recipient of residencies and fellowships at Skowhegan School of Painting and Sculpture, Marble House Project, Elizabeth Murray Artist
